Overview of the SDA 28 Fundamental Beliefs

The Seventh-day Adventist Church has articulated 28 fundamental beliefs that serve as the doctrinal foundation for its faith community. These beliefs are organized into several thematic categories that encompass theology, anthropology, soteriology, ecclesiology, and eschatology. This section introduces the structure and purpose of these beliefs as a guide to Adventist identity and practice.

Originally developed over many decades, the 28 fundamental beliefs were officially adopted to provide a clear, unified statement of faith. They are based on a literal and contextual interpretation of the Bible and reflect the unique emphasis of Adventist theology, such as the Sabbath and the investigative judgment. The beliefs function as a teaching tool and a statement of faith for church members worldwide.

God and the Trinity

The Nature of God

Central to the SDA 28 fundamental beliefs is the understanding of one God existing eternally in three persons: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. This doctrine of the Trinity affirms the co-equal and co-eternal nature of the Godhead, which is foundational to Christian faith and Adventist theology.

Attributes of God

God is described as loving, just, omniscient, omnipotent, and omnipresent. These attributes highlight God's character and involvement with humanity. The belief underscores that God is both transcendent and immanent, actively engaged in the creation and redemption of the world.

Creation and Human Nature

Creation of the World

The SDA 28 fundamental beliefs affirm that God created the universe in six literal days and rested on the seventh, which establishes the biblical basis for the Sabbath. This belief emphasizes the intentional and purposeful nature of creation, affirming the inherent goodness of the created order.

The Origin and Nature of Humanity

Humans were created in the image of God, with inherent dignity and the capacity for moral choice. The beliefs teach that humanity's fall into sin introduced death and separation from God, but also that redemption is available through Christ.

Salvation through Jesus Christ

The Life and Ministry of Jesus

Jesus Christ, the Son of God, is central to salvation. The beliefs detail His incarnation, ministry, death on the cross, resurrection, and ongoing intercession in the heavenly sanctuary. These elements are crucial for understanding Adventist soteriology.

Justification and Sanctification

Salvation is described as a gift received through faith in Jesus.

Justification refers to the forgiveness of sins, while sanctification is the ongoing process of spiritual growth and transformation empowered by the Holy Spirit.

The Role of the Holy Spirit

The Holy Spirit convicts individuals of sin and empowers believers for Christian living. This belief highlights the Spirit's role in regeneration and maintaining the believer's relationship with God.

The Church and Its Mission

The Nature of the Church

The Adventist Church is understood as a community of believers called out by God to proclaim the gospel. It is described as the body of Christ with a mission to spread the message of salvation and prepare the world for the second coming of Jesus.

Baptism and Communion

Two important ordinances are baptism by immersion and the Lord's Supper. Baptism symbolizes a believer's commitment and new life in Christ, while Communion commemorates Jesus' sacrifice and fosters spiritual unity among believers.

Spiritual Gifts and Ministry

The church encourages the use of spiritual gifts to build up the body of Christ and serve others. Ministry is seen as a calling for all believers, emphasizing service, evangelism, and discipleship.

Christian Life and Growth

Living a Christlike Life

The SDA 28 fundamental beliefs emphasize moral and ethical living based on biblical principles. This includes honesty, integrity, and love toward others as expressions of faith.

Health and Wholeness

Adventists promote healthful living, including proper diet, rest, and exercise, as part of honoring God with one's body. This holistic approach connects physical health with spiritual well-being.

Stewardship

Stewardship involves responsible management of resources, including time, talents, and finances. Believers are called to support the church's mission and use their gifts for God's glory.

Second Coming and Eternal Life

The Promise of Christ's Return

The literal, visible, and imminent second coming of Jesus Christ is a cornerstone of Adventist belief. This event will bring ultimate restoration and justice to the world.

The Resurrection and Judgment

Believers anticipate a resurrection of the righteous to eternal life. The investigative judgment, a unique Adventist doctrine, involves the examination of believers' lives before Christ's return.

Heaven and the New Earth

The final hope includes the creation of a new heaven and a new earth where sin and suffering are no more. Eternal life is understood as a restored relationship with God in a perfect environment.

Study Tips for Mastering the Fundamental Beliefs

Effective study of the SDA 28 fundamental beliefs requires a systematic approach that combines reading, reflection, and application. This section offers practical methods to enhance understanding and retention of the doctrines.
