The Birth of Basketball

Basketball was invented in December 1891 by Dr. James Naismith, a physical education instructor at the YMCA in Springfield, Massachusetts. Naismith was tasked with creating a new indoor game to keep his students active during the winter months. He devised a simple set of rules and used a soccer ball and two peach baskets as goals, which marked the birth of basketball.

Initial Rules and Setup

The original game of basketball consisted of the following key rules:

1. Teams: Two teams of nine players each.
2. Objective: To score points by throwing the ball into the opposing team's peach basket.
3. Movement: Players could pass the ball to teammates but were not allowed to run while holding it.
4. Scoring: Each goal scored counted for one point.

These rules have undergone significant changes over the years, but the fundamental objective of scoring points by shooting a ball into a hoop remains the same.
