The Pilgrims, having endured a harsh first winter, celebrated with the Wampanoag people to give thanks for their survival and the successful gathering of crops. Over time, thanksgiving evolved from a regional observance into a national holiday.

The Pilgrims and the First Thanksgiving

The Pilgrims, English settlers who arrived on the Mayflower, faced severe challenges upon landing in the New World. Their partnership with the Wampanoag tribe was crucial for learning local agriculture and survival techniques. The 1621 feast lasted three days and included various foods native to the area, symbolizing a moment of gratitude and community.

Establishment of Thanksgiving as a National Holiday

Thanksgiving became an official national holiday in 1863 when President Abraham Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday of November as a day of thanksgiving amid the Civil War. This
