Understanding the TOEFL iBT Reading Section

The TOEFL iBT reading section is designed to assess a test taker's ability to read and understand academic texts similar to those encountered in university courses. Typically, this section includes three to four passages, each approximately 700 words long. Test takers are allotted 54 to 72 minutes to answer 30 to 40 questions based on these passages.

Each passage covers topics from various fields such as natural sciences, social sciences, arts, and humanities. The texts are authentic, academic, and often contain complex vocabulary and sentence structures. Success in this section requires not only reading speed but also the ability to comprehend detailed information, identify the writer's purpose, and make inferences.

Structure of the Reading Section

The reading section is structured to mimic real academic reading scenarios. Passages are followed by multiple-choice questions, which focus on different aspects of comprehension. Test takers must manage their time effectively to read passages thoroughly and answer questions accurately within the time limit.

Scoring and Evaluation

Scores for the reading section range from 0 to 30. The scoring is based on the number of correct answers, with no penalty for incorrect responses. Understanding the scoring criteria helps test takers focus on accuracy and completeness rather than guessing.

Inference Questions

Inference questions assess the ability to understand implicit meanings or conclusions drawn from the passage. These require critical thinking and careful analysis beyond the surface text.

Main Idea and Purpose Questions

These questions ask about the central theme of the passage or the author's intent. Recognizing the main idea helps in summarizing and synthesizing information effectively.
