Game Overview and Objective

The What Do You Meme? game instructions begin with understanding the basic concept and purpose of the game. This party game is designed to generate laughs by encouraging players to create the funniest memes possible. Each round, players compete to match caption cards with a photo card selected by the judge, aiming to produce the most humorous combination. The game's objective is straightforward: accumulate the most winning caption cards by impressing the judge with clever or outrageous meme captions. What Do You Meme? is ideal for groups of friends or family members seeking a lighthearted and entertaining activity. The game's appeal lies in its simplicity and the endless creativity it inspires, making it accessible for players of various ages and backgrounds.

Components of What Do You Meme?

Before starting the game, it is important to familiarize oneself with the components included in the What Do You Meme? box. Each element plays a specific role in the gameplay and contributes to the overall experience.

Photo Cards

Photo cards feature popular and humorous images that serve as the meme's visual component. These cards are the centerpiece of each round, providing the context for the captions.

Caption Cards

Caption cards contain witty, sarcastic, or funny phrases that players use to complete the memes. Players select these cards from their hands to match the judge's chosen photo card.

Judge Card

The judge card helps designate the player responsible for selecting the winning caption each round. The judging role rotates among players to ensure fairness.

Instruction Manual

An instruction manual is included to explain the rules, setup, and any additional gameplay variations or house rules.

Setup Instructions

Setting up What Do You Meme? correctly is essential for a smooth gaming session. The setup process involves organizing the cards and determining the first judge.

1. Shuffle the photo cards thoroughly and place them face down in a draw pile accessible to all players.
2. Shuffle the caption cards and deal seven cards to each player. Players should keep their cards hidden from others.
3. Choose the first judge by any agreed method, such as the youngest player or a random draw.
4. Place the judge card in front of the player designated as the judge for the initial round.
5. Ensure all players understand the rules and gameplay flow before starting the first round.

How to Play What Do You Meme?

The gameplay of What Do You Meme? follows a simple yet engaging structure that revolves around rounds of meme creation and judging.

Round Structure

Each round consists of the following steps:

1. The judge draws a photo card from the pile and displays it face up for all players to see.
2. Players select one caption card from their hand that they believe best matches or humorously complements the photo card.
3. All caption cards are submitted face down to the judge.
4. The judge shuffles the caption cards to maintain anonymity and then reads each caption aloud paired with the photo card.
5. The judge selects the funniest or most fitting caption as the winner of the round.
6. The player who submitted the winning caption card receives the photo card as a point.
7. All players draw back up to seven caption cards, replenishing their hands.
8. The role of judge passes clockwise to the next player, and the next round begins.

Judging Criteria

The judge's decision is subjective and based on humor, creativity, and relevance. Players should respect the judge's choice as final. This element adds unpredictability and encourages diverse styles of humor.

Winning the Game

The game ends when a player reaches a predetermined number of winning photo cards, which can be agreed upon before the game starts. Alternatively, the game can conclude after a set number of rounds. The player with the most photo cards at the end is declared the winner. This simple scoring system makes What Do You Meme? easy to track and quick to complete, allowing for multiple rounds or rematches during a single gathering.

Game Variations and House Rules

To keep What Do You Meme? fresh and adaptable, players often introduce variations and house rules that modify standard gameplay. These variations can cater to different group sizes, ages, or humor preferences.

Team Play

Players can form teams, collaborating on caption choices to increase creativity and interaction. The judge can alternate between teams to maintain balance.

Time Limits

Introducing time limits for selecting captions and judging decisions speeds up gameplay and adds a competitive edge.

Custom Caption Cards

Players can create personalized caption cards relevant to their group's inside jokes or themes, enhancing the social aspect of the game.

Elimination Mode

Players who fail to win a round lose a life or are eliminated, with the last remaining player declared the winner. This mode adds a strategic and survival element.

Tips for an Enjoyable Gameplay Experience

Maximizing enjoyment while playing What Do You Meme? involves more than just following the instructions. The following tips help create a lively and engaging atmosphere.

- Encourage creativity and open-mindedness to embrace diverse humor styles.
- Rotate the judge role regularly to give everyone a chance to influence the game.
- Keep the environment relaxed and fun, avoiding overly competitive attitudes.
- Use variations or house rules to tailor the game to the group's preferences.
- Ensure all players understand the instructions fully before starting to prevent confusion.
- Consider playing with themed decks or expansions to add variety.
