Summary of Wonder

R.J. Palacio's "Wonder" follows the life of August "Auggie" Pullman, a 10-year-old boy who has undergone numerous surgeries to help him live a normal life due to his facial deformities. The story begins with Auggie being homeschooled by his mother, Isabel, but as he approaches fifth grade, his parents decide it is time for him to attend a mainstream school, Beecher Prep.

At Beecher Prep, Auggie faces challenges and triumphs as he navigates the complexities of friendship and bullying. He is initially met with stares and whispers from his peers, but he also finds friendship with characters like Jack Will and Summer. Throughout the school year, Auggie's experiences help him grow and develop a sense of resilience.
