1. Introduction

- Hook: Start with an engaging opening—this could be a quote, a question, or a short story.
- Purpose: Clearly state the purpose of your speech and its relevance to the audience.

2. Body

- Main Points: Divide the body into 2-3 key points that support your theme. Each point should be backed by personal experiences, biblical references, or statistics.

3. Conclusion

- Summary: Recap the main points briefly.
- Call to Action: Encourage the audience to take specific steps based on your message, whether that's getting involved in church activities or reflecting on their faith.
- Closing Statement: End with a powerful statement or quote that reinforces your theme.

Delivery is just as important as content. Here are some tips to enhance your speaking skills:

1. Practice: Rehearse your speech multiple times to improve your confidence and fluency. Practice in front of friends or family to get constructive feedback.
